

Ordering Historical Movement Data from Airservices Australia

Airservices can provide detailed Historical Movement Data relating to aircraft movements at a particular aerodrome or location, or across other criteria. This service is typically aimed at high volume requests for data.

This data typically contains, at a minimum, the following information: Date of record, Time of record, Aircraft Registration, Aircraft Type, Origin and Destination. If you wish to receive additional data types, please specify these in the form below. Please note that details of sensitive operations (as determined by Airservices, such as military and law enforcement) will be removed from any resulting data at Airservices complete discretion.

You should note that Airservices may fulfill your request from different internal data sources, which have been established to fulfill different purposes, and as such, data retrieved from an individual data source may not match those from other sources, whether those be internal or external to Airservices. In purchasing this data from Airservices, you acknowledge this and understand that the data provided to you by Airservices is not warranted for any specific use, and any such use is at your own discretion.

You should be aware of the following key points related to Airservices provision of historical aircraft movement data:

- You are not permitted to commercialise any Historical Movement Data.
- Airservices does not permit itself to be attributed as the source of any Historical Movement Data that it provides.
- You are required to advise us of any third parties who will access the Historical Movement Data and you must warrant and indemnify Airservices for their use of it.
- You are required to destroy the Historical Movement Data on expiry of the license agreement.

Upon receiving your application and acknowledgement of Airservices standard terms and conditions for the provision of Historical Movement Data, Airservices may, at its complete discretion, levy an assessment fee of $960 (including GST) where it deems that the cost of assessing your application may be significant. Should you progress to purchasing the Historical Movement Data, Airservices will deduct any assessment fee paid from the resulting license fees. Should you not progress to purchasing the Historical Movement Data, or following the assessment, Airservices advises that it is unable to provide the Historical Movement Data, the assessment fee will be non-refundable.
